=====

There can be no true prayer without true faith. Without faith it is impossible to please God. Prayer and faith are the arms by which the soul hangs upon the neck of infinite love, and grasps the hand of infinite power. God does not recognize dumb children, as far as experience in His truth is concerned. Faith is an active, working power. The new-born faith in Christ is revealed by prayer and praise. Prayer is a relief and a comfort to the troubled soul. The sincere, humble suppliant at the throne of grace may know that he is communing with God, through the divinely-appointed means, and that it is his privilege to understand what God is to the believing soul. We must have a realization of our needs. We must hunger and thirst after life in Christ and through Christ. Then we shall come to Him in humility and sincerity, and He will give us the faith that works by love and purifies the soul. Bible Training School, January 1, 1905, par. 1

We need much more of the Holy Spirit of God, and we want the blessing of God to attend all our labors. I shall press the work forward, only under the Lord's direction. We must now be very careful in regard to our own spiritual condition.

I believe the Lord will strengthen and preserve you on your journey. I would not lay out your work; for you are on the ground, and you know what is best to be done. We must watch on the right hand and on the left, but we are [to] keep on the gospel shoes and the whole armor of righteousness. We need the love of God in our hearts, and [we must] cherish true faith. The Lord will never disappoint us; and we need not doubt, but press forward in hope and in courage want the truth, living truth, deeply engraved upon the tables of our heart; and let us render grateful thanks to God. Our prayers should be seasoned with thanksgiving and praise [to] His holy name. Vol. 20, Letters and Manuscripts, Lt 359, 1905, par. 2, 3.
